Frontend Inspirations:

My aim is to create a simple and minimal design for my application. Some popular recipe applications I looked at for inspiration are:

The first app, Mise, has a very clean and minimalist style. It focuses on displaying recipes in a simple and beautiful way without any distractions. The interface is easy to navigate, and everything is designed to let users concentrate on cooking rather than spending too much time searching for recipes.

Another app is Kitchen Stories. This app stands out because of its polished design and high-quality visuals. It provides simple instructional videos and organizes recipes into neat categories. The layout uses a lot of white space, which makes it feel very organized and pleasant to use.
